The Boys' Shop Introduces The "George Washington" Suit for Little Boys.

Such a distinct novelty in suits as this model is sure to be pleasing to the little fellows themselves. It is a combination of two styles that suit them best—the Norfolk and the Sailor effects, with a mannish little vest of rep. It is entirely unlike anything we have shown before.

They may be had in blue or brown velvet, white corduroy and serge, in blue, gray and tan; with collars in self or contrasting colors; collars and cuffs trimmed with rows of silk braid. A silk-embroidered insignia ornaments the right sleeve and a sailor's silk tie gives a pleasing effect. Straight knee-length trousers.

The garments are finished with fine pearl buttons and are exceedingly well tailored. Sizes 5 to 8 years.

Prices, $5.00 to $10.00.

HATS TO MATCH—A tricorn Colonial shape in typical "George Washington" style shown in serge, broadcloth and velvet in several variations. Price, $1.50 each.

Boys' New Fall Hats.

A BOYS' HAT DEPARTMENT in which he will find the same specialization and care in selection has been given as in providing for his other apparel. Parents are assured an intelligent co-operation in choosing the hat of proper fit and becomingness. A most extensive assortment of styles for every type of boy.

Hats, 50c to $5.00. Caps, 50c and $1.00.

GIVES ROTHSCHILD 8 YEARS IN PRISON

Judge Siddons Sentences Lawyer for Forgery—Duped a Widow.

OTHER INDICTMENTS STILL ARE PENDING

Prisoner's Attorney Pleads for Leniency, Telling of Big Losses Client Sustained.

David Rothschild, thirty-four years old, a member of the bar, pleaded guilty today before Justice Siddons in Criminal Division 2 to two indictments charging forgery. He was sentenced to serve eight years in the penitentiary, four years on each indictment.

Rothschild declared he had nothing to say before receiving his sentence except to express his sorrow for the disgrace he had brought on himself and his family, and on the members of the bar of the District.

Justice Siddons, commenting on the spirit of contrition, indicated by the prisoner, expressed the hope that he would carry the same spirit to the penitentiary, and by his conduct there render himself eligible to release under the parole system.

Duped a Widow.

United States Attorney Laskey, in asking for a sentence, declared he had no recommendation to make. He told the court that the indictments charged that Rothschild had passed two forged notes, one for $1,000 in 1911 and the other for $1,220 in 1913 on Mrs. Katie Hall, a widow. The woman's husband had been a client of Rothschild, and prosecutor said, and at his death she had employed the prisoner to collect an insurance policy of $2,000. She deposited her money in a trust company, but Rothschild persuaded her to invest it at a higher rate of interest.

He took the widow, said Mr. Laskey, to a house on 4th street northwest, and told her the owner wanted to borrow $1,000 on the house. Mrs. Hall was satisfied with the security and gave Rothschild a check for the money. Interest was paid regularly on the note until Rothschild left Washington in September, 1914. Investigation showed the note to be forged, declared Mr. Laskey. The second note was also forged, at least as to the indorsement, the court was told.

Three More Indictments.

Mr. Laskey explained that three more indictments for alleged forgery are pending against Rothschild. He asked the court to dispose of the two cases before him without reference to the other charges. The prosecutor said he was not prepared to say what procedure would be taken.

sure would be adopted as to the other indictments.

Attorney Alvin L. Newmyer, for the accused, made a strong plea for leniency. He called attention to the fact that Rothschild had admitted his guilt and saved the expense of a trial. He went briefly over the career of the lawyer and told of his loss of a business, which cost him $10,000 in one year by a decision of the United States Supreme Court. When the trading stamp scheme had been declared unlawful, the lawyer said, his client reimbursed holders of claims amounting to $10,000. By his attention to the economy stamp business Rothschild lost his practice, said his attorney, and then got into bad company, which accounts for his present plight.

Left Here Last Year.

Rothschild left Washington September 3, 1914, and was not heard from until last week when he was apprehended in Toledo, Ohio. When captured Rothschild declared he did not know he was wanted and stated that he had not changed his name and had even done business with the chief of police of Ohio town.

A divorce petition filed by his wife is still pending.

Rooms are assigned to G. A. R. organizations

Quarters in Old Census Building Allotted for Various Uses During the Reunion.

Assignment of rooms in Camp Matthew G. Emery, the old census building, let and B streets northwest, which is to be the rendezvous of the veterans during the reunion here, was announced today by Col. John McElroy, acting commander of the Department of the Potomac, the official host of the reunion.

The lower floor of Camp Emery is given over to meeting halls, rest rooms, hospital, fire and police headquarters, registration booths and administration offices. The gathering places for the various corps are on the second floor and they are grouped according to armies.

Distinguished guests of the encampment have been allotted the large room at the corner of C and I streets, next to the census building, and the rooms reserved for President Wilson and the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army and for the G. A. R. committees.

Registration Booths.

The registration booths are at the 2d street entrance, with the lunchrooms adjacent.

Campfires, army reunions, dog watch and sailors and marines' reunions are to be held in Room 28.

Citizens' reception and business sessions of the encampment are to be held in the largest hall of the building: Room 51, at the 1st street entrance.

The information bureau, post office, railroad office and souvenirs are to be in Room 10, facing the street entrance.

The woman's restroom is in Room 4. The veterans' restroom and hospital is in Room 8 and the operating rooms are in Room 7.

The reunion room for unattached corps is Room 35, at the right of the C street entrance.

At the left of the C street entrance, room 34 is to be the headquarters of the Local Legion, and other army headquarters are: Army of the James in 37, Army of the Tennessee in 38, Army of the Potomac in 39 and Sons of Veterans in 40.

The executive committee and reception committee have room 41. The police headquarters will be in room 42 and fire headquarters in room 43.

Corps' Quarters.

The corps quarters on the second floor are allotted as follows: Army of the Potomac, corps 6 and 9, 11 and 12, in rooms 16 and 17, with the cavalry corps in the next two rooms, 18 and 19. The 1st and 5th, 3d and 3d corps are quartered on the first floor next to the executive committee.

Army of the Tennessee, corps 16 and 17, 13 and 15 are in rooms 23 and 22. In room 20 are the headquarters of the 7th and 8th corps, army of the Tennessee, with the Transmississippi and West Virginia corps. In room 21 will be the 3d and 2d corps, army of the Tennessee.

Ohio, Army of the Cumberland, corps 4, 14 and 20, and the cavalry are in rooms 12, 13, 24 and 25, army of the James, 11, 12 and 13. Army of the Gulf, 15th Corps, is in room 27.

These two markers to their memory on the field of Chantilly are to be unveiled at noon October 2, when the veterans, about one-half mile from Ox Hill, where the two major generals fell.

LARGEST AMERICAN FLAG FOR THE G. A. R. PARADE

To Be Brought to Encampment by McKinley Post of Canton, Ohio.

The largest United States flag in the world is to be brought to Washington and carried in the G. A. R. parade here, September 29. This flag is now the property of the city of Canton, Ohio, and was a gift from McKinley Post. It was made on the suggestion of Dr. S. P. Spaulding. It measures 120 feet by 53½ feet and is made of the very best material, the same as is used in the government flags.

A resolution to carry this flag to the National Capital was unanimously passed by McKinley Post and Dr. Spaulding was made chairman of the committee to take charge of the flag on the Chantilly. The McKinley Post of Canton has consented to this use of the monster banner.

Comrade J. E. McCabe of Washington was a guest of the William McKinley Post on the evening that the flag matter was under discussion and he volunteered to assist that post in everything possible from this end. The Canton post suggests that 150 Sons of Veterans take charge of carrying the monster emblem in the parade here.

It is also intended to place the big flag on exhibition in the city post office. Until this flag was made the largest United States flag ever made was a gift from McKinley Post. It was made on the suggestion of Dr. S. P. Spaulding. It measures 120 feet by 53½ feet and is made of the very best material, the same as is used in the government flags.

SPLENDID TENNIS PROGRAM TODAY AT COLUMBIA CLUB

Finals of Men's Doubles and Women's Singles to Be Played by Best Racquetters of the District.

The best match of the afternoon developed in the final of the men's doubles, when Miss Eva Baker, the local champion, defeated Miss A. M. Doyle 6-3 and 8-6.

The second set, as the figures indicate, was a battle royal, and went twenty-three games before a decision was reached.

The champion finally gave her the victory. Whenever Miss Doyle could be believed before the match returns the scoring stopped, but when once open close midway the champion was there or thereabouts with the correct placement that scored time after time. To the victor, however, Miss Doyle appeared to be playing well within herself, having something always in reserve, and her resources came handy.

The chief battle in the mixed doubles was that between Miss Baker and Paul Treanor, clashing with Miss Du Bose and Connie Doyle. It was generally believed before the match started that it would be hotly contested all the way and the winners turn up with a small margin. The contrary was the result, Miss Du Bose and Doyle winning out cleverly by the one-sided scores of 4-6.

Summaries.

Following are the summaries of yesterday's play:

WOMEN'S SINGLES.
